Valentines Day Nude Cruise - Sunday February 15

The whales are back and Valentines Day is fast approaching. That can only mean that it's time for the 9th Annual Valentine's Day Whale Watching Nude Cruise sponsored by Friends of Little Beach/Maui SunSeekers. This cruise is scheduled for Sunday, Feb 15 aboard the Maui Magic. Last years cruise was a great success and this year should be no different. The whales started arriving in late November and are starting to put on good shows almost daily.

The Maui Magic will board at Ma'alaea Harbor Slip #55 at 12:30 PM and return around 5 PM. Everyone should bring a pupu platter or dish to share. The boat will provide sodas, beer and wine. Snorkel gear and a water slide are available on the boat.

As indicated in the last Newsletter, the costs of the cruises have gone up so we have to raise our prices to cover these costs. The new price schedule is $45 per member ($85 per member couple) and $50 per non-member.

So, make your reservations now by paying Dave or Miriam or send your check to Friends of Little Beach. These cruises have become very popular so don't hesitate. Remember to bring your sunscreen and hats/caps are also a good idea. Also bring a generous tip for the crew since that is not included.☀

FOLB/MSS Events Update

The October Halloween Costume Party Cruise was a great success. 44 cruisers enjoyed the trip to Molokini for an afternoon of snorkeling, swimming, diving, sliding, sunning and eating. Shortly after we left the harbor, the costumes were judged for the Costume Contest. About 30 people participated in this event. First Place went to Jerry Mazzacano dressed as Peter Pan and Sue as Captain Hook, while our second place winner was Virginia dressed as a (lovely) wicked witch. The prize for first place was a Gift Certificate for 2 free nights at the Maui Sun Club, generously donated by Georgianna Dryer. Second prize was one of our wonderful Friends of Little Beach Tee-Shirts. Everyone had a great time watching the costume parade while the crew members of the boat were the (unbiased) judges. After leaving Molokini we cruised past Little Beach where we sang and danced for the beachgoers and traded waves and hellos. It was another great day on the water in the sun.

The article written for N Magazine was published in Volume 23.2, issued in Dec, 2003. Reproductions (electronic and hardcopy) are available if you want one.☀

On the Sand at Little Beach...

The Christmas Day Beach Buffet was a roaring success again this year. For several years a few of the beachgoers brought pupus to share on Christmas Day for a noon buffet on the beach. This has grown steadily so that this year 20-30 people contributed food for the event. Before the feast began, holiday songs were sung, such as The Twelve Days of Christmas, Hawaiian Style. The weather cooperated by providing a bright, sunny, cloudless, picture-perfect day for this event. This has turned into a major event for all beachgoers so we will continue to announce it in the Newsletter.

The New Year arrived on Maui accompanied by lots of cloudy weather and rain. The clouds came in on Dec 27th with a few showers and by New Years Day heavy rains blanketed the islands. Rain did not let up until Jan 4th. Kihei received at least 3-4 inches of rain, a lot of which soaked into the ground. This area of the island has not been this green in several years. Unfortunately, the rain spoiled many vacations this year. ☀
